

High School Religion Teacher

St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute, an all-boys Lasallian Catholic high school in Buffalo, NY, announces an opening for the position of Religion Teacher, to begin work in September 2022. The successful candidate will be able to inspire our students to grow in their faith while engaging them in the classroom through well-planned, interactive and faith-filled religion lessons.

Candidate Profile:

Content expertise, a desire and ability to teach students from diverse backgrounds on an individual level, and a love for the Catholic faith are all required. Effective communication skills, a willingness to actively engage our students in their learning, and an eagerness to be active in the life of the school community are additional musts.

A Bachelor's degree is required. A completed (or in-progress) master's degree in Education, Religious Studies, or a related field is preferable.

Role and Responsibilities:

The candidate will be expected to participate fully in all obligations of a high school teacher – incorporating modern and ever-changing educational technology to suit students' learning, both in-person and virtually.

The Religion Teacher reports to the Principal and will work collaboratively with students, faculty, and administrators.

Contact Information:

To apply, please send a letter of introduction and resume to St. Joe's Principal, Jim Spillman at jspillman@sjci.com.