Description of Opportunity:

The Professional in Residence will primarily teach courses in web design and digital media, which may include:

- Web Design
- Advanced Digital Design
- Digital Storytelling and Content Creation
- Social Media Strategy
- Multimedia Journalism / Media Production
- Digital Images with Photoshop

Versatility in supporting related areas such as Artificial intelligence, branding, UX/UI, video production, or marketing is a plus.

Key Responsibilities:

- Develop and deliver engaging, project-based lessons in web design and digital media
- Teach industry-relevant skills (HTML/CSS, design principles, content creation, digital storytelling, etc.)
- Provide real-world context through authentic projects and client-based or school-based work
- Contribute ideas to enhance and evolve the existing curriculum
- Mentor students in creative process, collaboration, and portfolio development
- Participate in departmental collaboration and professional development when available

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree or higher in a relevant field (Digital Media, Web Design, Communications, etc.)
- Professional experience in web design, digital media, or related industry
- Strong communication skills and ability to engage and inspire high school students
- Willingness to adapt to a teaching environment and embrace a growth mindset
- Availability to teach on a consistent part-time schedule at least 2 days per week.

Impact:

This role helps students connect classroom learning to real-world applications, building creative confidence and technical skills while supporting La Salle's mission of innovation, collaboration, and lifelong learning.
